

As being both woman + man woman = happiness new life man = sadness

I think there is no god, but there are angels that look after people.

I think God is a fat
minority woman

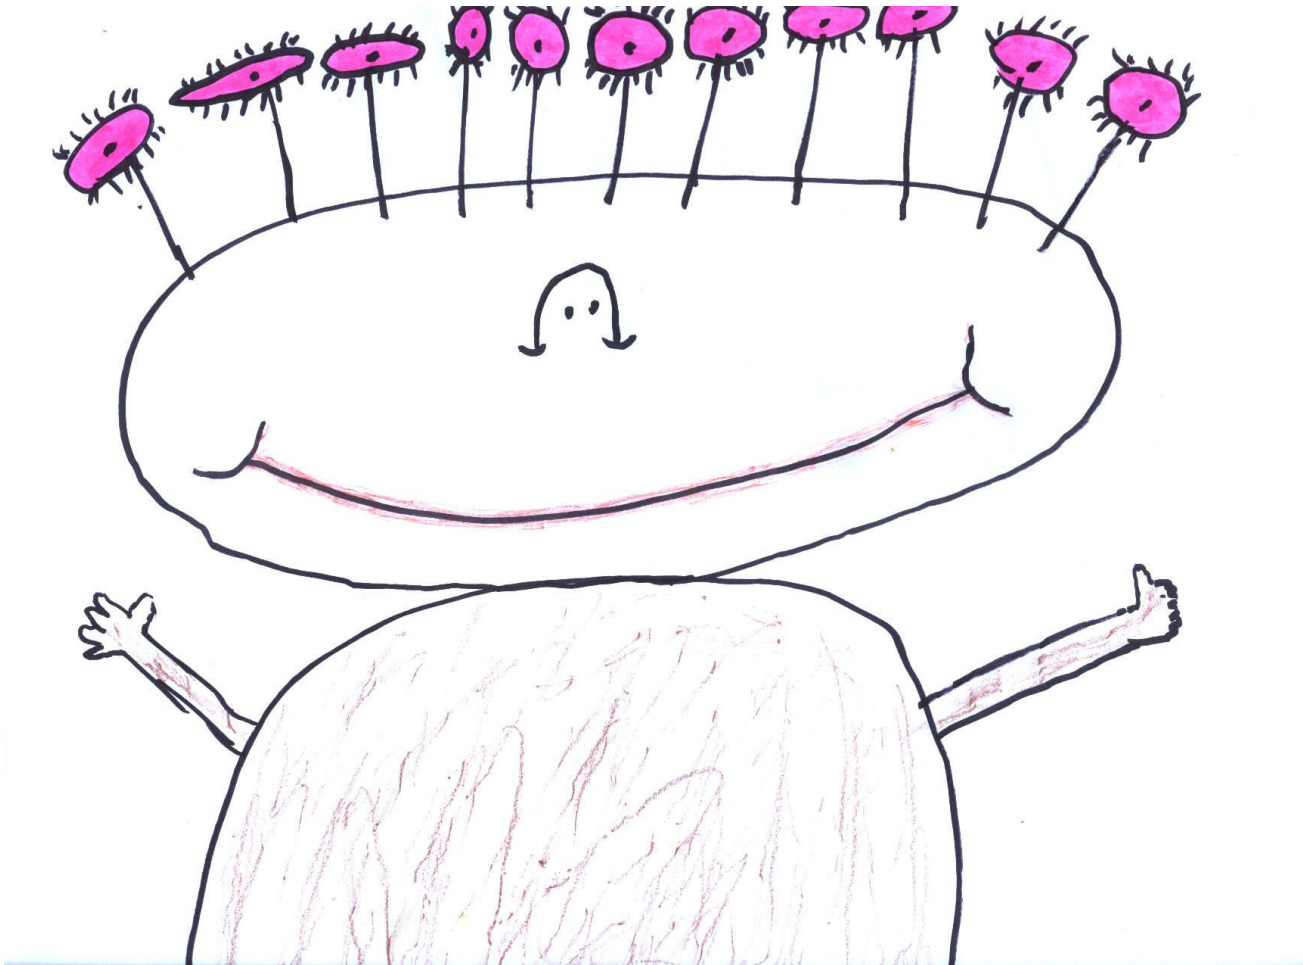

Symbolizes a powerfull
King
Looking down
And
protecting us
High above looking down

God has many eyes
to watch over people

Omnipotent Watcher?

I think God Forces are at work in us

God may have many appearances

I Think God is the ocean, because like God the ocean is unpredictable ~~the ocean is unpredictable~~

I don't know about God but this is Heaven

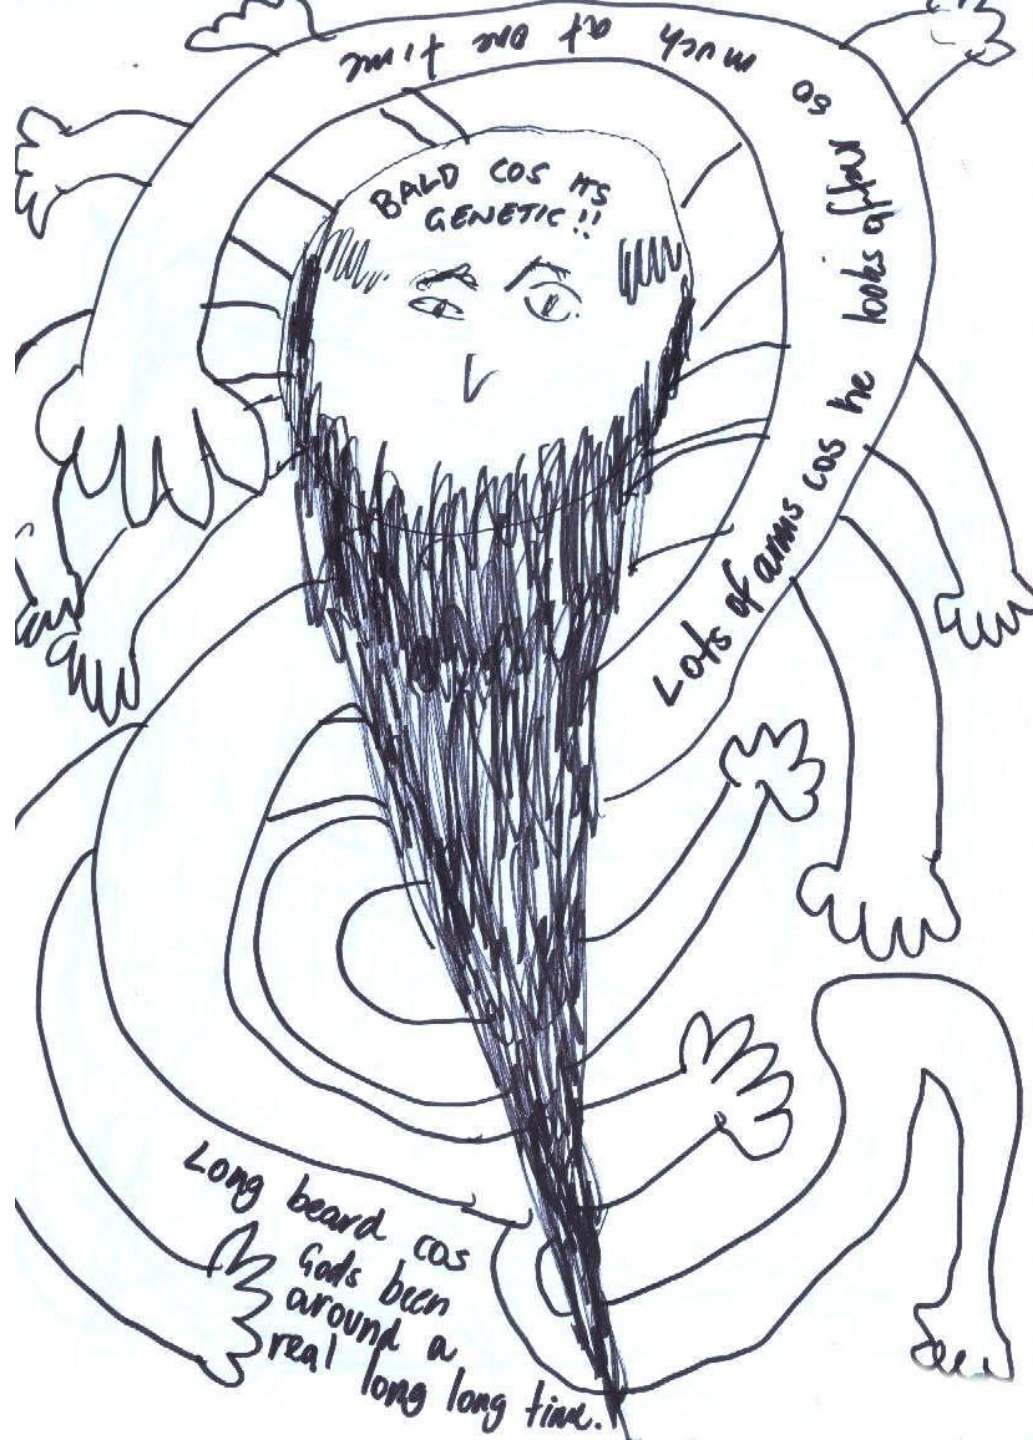

大仏

Japanese
one

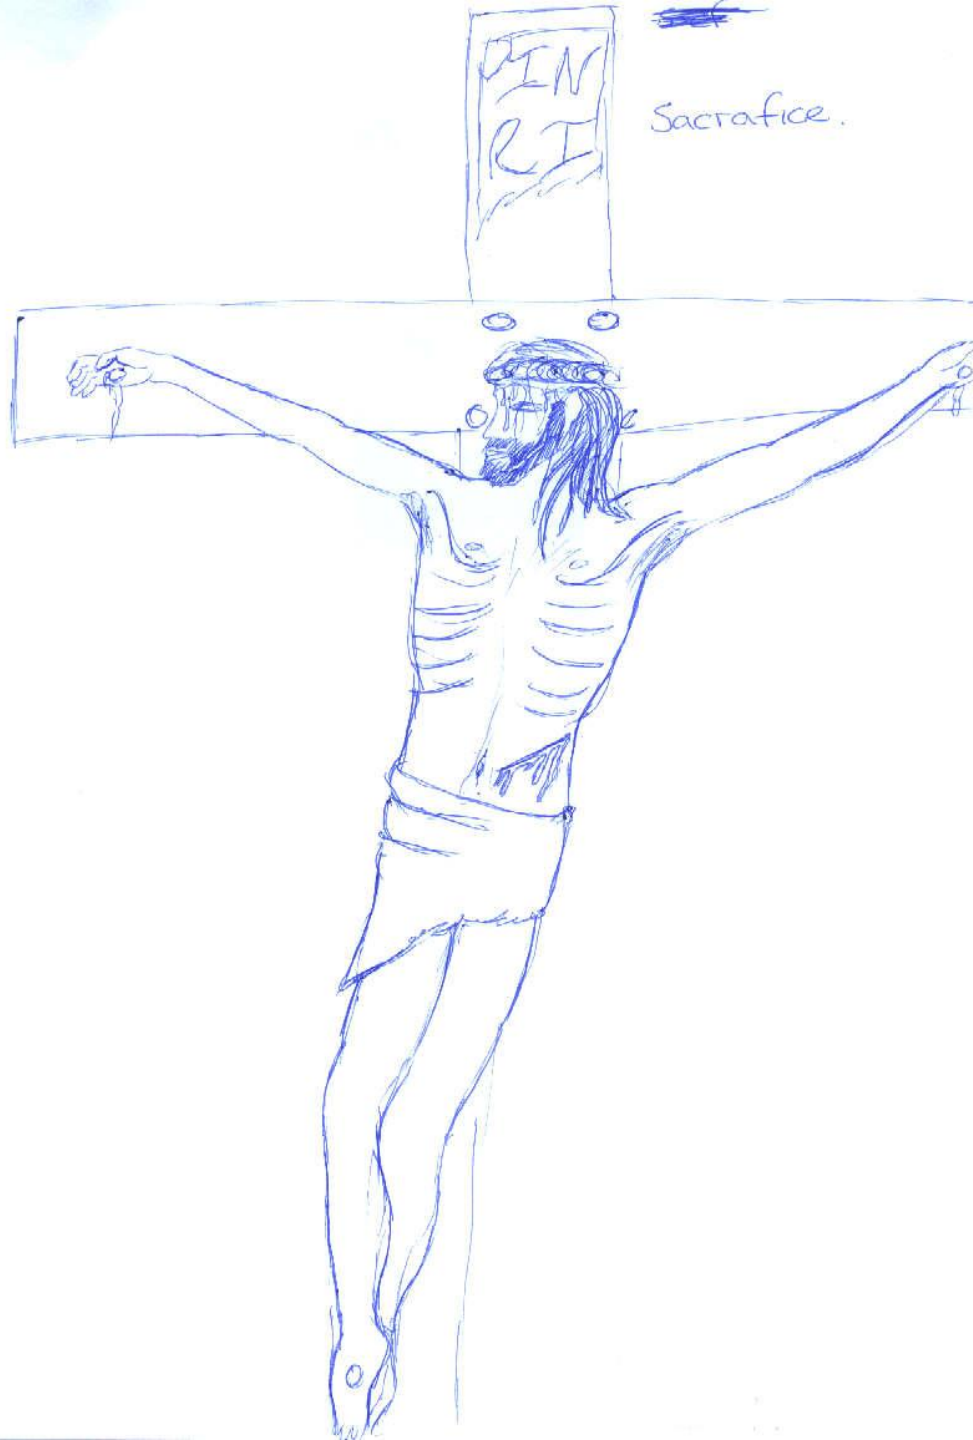

God in forest looking after animals.

I shall make a World, for
I have the power!

I drew this because a mass a psychedelic
colour looks cool

I don't believe in God...

*This is the spiritualness
in me...*

I thought of drawing this because nobody 'here' knows what 'it' (he/she) looks like, they just believe in 'it'.

This is the God I don't believe in

God is this idea external to my head

The god that I wish there was is neither real or fantasy, human or animal, man or woman. They are a mixture of all kinds, living and non-living. They live in a place where all your fantasies come true.

Just Another Face in the Crowd

God is like the sun, watching over the human's spiritual process.
